

CARRANZA ORDERS ATTACK ON U. S. TROOPS IF THEY MOVE SOUTH, WEST OR EAST

Any Advance to Be Considered as a Hostile Act.

MEXICANS THEN TO ACT ACCORDINGLY

Agreement With Gen. Gaviro Declared Null and Void.

INTERVENTION SURE WITH THE FIRST SHOT

Sharpest Note Ever Sent Out Approved by the President.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Unofficially reached Washington to-night that Gen. Jacinto Trevino, acting under directions from Carranza, has served notice on Gen. Pershing, commanding the American forces in Mexico, that any further movement to the south, east or west by the American troops will be regarded as a hostile act and will be treated accordingly.

Although official confirmation of the report is lacking at both the State and War Departments, officials here are apprehensive. Trevino is regarded as the ablest of Carranza's Generals and one who is entirely in the confidence of the de facto Government.

While it is indicated that there is no set purpose on the part of the American Government to send the troops further into Mexico, Gen. Pershing is under orders to follow any "hot trail" of bandits who might be reported in his vicinity. Officials here, in the absence of confirmation from Gen. Pershing, are unable to gauge whether the threat is a characteristic Mexican bluff or is to be taken seriously.

Should any attack be made by the Carranzistas, it is admitted that only a miracle could prevent war between the two countries. In that event it would be necessary for the United States to prepare immediately for a thorough campaign in Mexico. This would require the calling out of the entire National Guard and perhaps a call for volunteers.

Wilson Approves Note.

The American reply to the Carranza note has been approved by President Wilson and probably will be forwarded to-morrow unless this new development is of such a character as to require a change in the communication.

It was learned to-night that the reply was held up to-day because of the desire of the Administration to secure further details concerning the fight at San Ignacio, Texas, in which three American soldiers were killed and six wounded. To-day's report seemed to have indicated that Carranzistas were involved in the attack.

TREVINO WARNS GEN. PERSHING.

CHIHUAHUA CITY, Mexico, June 16.—Acting on instructions from Carranza Gen. Trevino, commander of the army of the north, advised Gen. Pershing of the American forces to-day that any movement of American troops from their present lines to the south, east or west would be considered a hostile act and a signal to commence warfare.

Trevino at the same time announced he had received acknowledgment from Pershing of the recent order nullifying any agreement made with Gen. Gaviro at the recent conference, the object of which was to avert clashes between the troops of the two Governments.

Four thousand men of the Durango division of the Carranza army under Gen. Domingo Arrieta have arrived at Concho, about sixty miles southeast of Chihuahua city, to reinforce Gen. Maldonado.

Anti-American feeling here was provoked again to-day by exaggerated reports of a recent encounter between American soldiers and natives in a saloon in Casas Grandes in which a Mexican policeman was wounded.

diplomats have been discussing among themselves the advisability of proposing a new offer of mediation should the situation grow worse.

The Mexican Embassy, which has been unusually silent of late, issued a statement to-night concerning conditions in Mexico. It read as follows:

Mr. Carranza has issued a call for municipal elections to be held the first Sunday of next September. After these elections will follow elections for Representatives, Senators and President. No other act can be effected until the restoration of constitutional order as it is of necessity that the municipalities revise the elections of Representatives and the latter revise the Presidential election.

LONDON, June 16.—The Russian War Office announced to-day the additional capture of 100 officers and doctors and 14,000 men. This brings the total number of prisoners taken in Gen. Brusiloff's offensive, as officially reported, up to 152,656.

MEXICANS CALLED TO ARMS IN JUAREZ

Told to Prepare for Break With U. S.—Troops Again Cross Line.

CATCH THREE BANDITS

El Paso, June 16.—Following the entry into Mexico to-day of American troops near Laredo, in pursuit of Mexican bandits who yesterday raided a ranch in Texas near that point, placards appeared this afternoon in Juarez on the dead walls and telephone poles, inviting all citizens to meet at 5:30 each evening in the plaza to receive military instruction.

The notice, which is in Spanish and is signed by Jesus Valdez, urges all citizens to practice "in order to be prepared in the event of a break with the United States." The notice requests that both old and young meet in the plaza in front of the headquarters of the Twenty-eighth Battalion for military instruction.

Valdez is a private citizen in Juarez and a friend of Gen. Gaviro, ex-commander of the garrison. Following the action of Carranza soldiers yesterday in firing over the line near the El Paso station at two city sanitary inspectors, Mayor Tom Lea to-day ordered the purchase of rifles for the city. Carranza soldiers, he said, had fired a number of the best rifle shots in his brigade to be stationed along the river banks.

The general is reputed to have called Gen. Gonzalez, the Juarez garrison commander, on the telephone and informed him that he had stationed his best sharpshooters on the border and that if any more sniping occurred from the Mexican side of the line his men would return the fire and make some business for the Juarez hospital department.

HOW GERMAN PROJECTILES PENETRATED BRITISH SHIPS.

THE first photographs of British vessels that were in the great naval fight arrived in this country yesterday. The accompanying picture shows the damage done to the armored side of one of England's capital ships, the name of which was deleted by the censor when the photograph was passed. In the left hand corner the hole made through the heavy armor plate has been stuffed with canvas. Scars made by shells are seen along the ship's side.

ROOSEVELT TO BACK THE HUGHES TICKET

Perkins and Whitman Hold Conferences and Peace Seems Assured.

HUGHES'S VIEW INDORSED

The dove of political peace hovered abidingly yesterday between the camps of Col. Roosevelt and Charles Evans Hughes. His fluttering left no doubt in the minds of political observers that the way is being paved for the Colonel to come out definitely in a short time and announce his intention of lending his support to the election of the Republican nominee.

A series of conferences throughout the day between George W. Perkins and Gov. Whitman, the one representing the Colonel, the other, Mr. Hughes, loomed up significantly in the prospect for harmony. Both conferences reported to their principals the progress made, but neither would talk for publication when the discussions ended not long before midnight. Enough was said, however, to indicate that the welcome is being prepared for the return of as many of the Progressives as the Colonel may be able to deliver when he returns to the fold himself.

Mr. Perkins met the Colonel in a long talk at the same time that Gov. Whitman met Mr. Hughes. Later in the afternoon Mr. Perkins and Gov. Whitman met for a conference.

Hughes changes his Plans.

Pending that conference, Mr. Hughes announced that he had postponed his return to Washington until to-morrow. After it had ended and Mr. Perkins had gone back to the hotel, Mr. Hughes had called up the Republican nominee, Mr. Hughes told his friends at the Hotel Astor that he would proceed to Washington at 1:30 o'clock, as he had planned originally.

INSURGENTS FIGHT WILSON ON M'CORMICK

The President's Manager Looked On as Intruder by Old Leaders.

MOORE, OBDURATE, HEADS A REVOLT

National Committee, However, to Yield to Save Party Harmony.

SEE ONLY HOPE IN WINNING MOOSE VOTE

Wilson Platform Adopted and the Convention Ends Its Work.

St. Louis, June 16.—Vance McCormick, the Pennsylvania near Bull Moose, who will manage President Wilson's campaign this year, will enter upon his new duties with the knowledge that the practical men connected with the Democratic National Committee look upon him as an intruder.

This fact became apparent to-day when the National Committee met to put through the organization slate outlined in the telegram received by the leaders from Mr. Wilson last night. The old leaders were angry over the President's choice of McCormick and two of them gave expression to the feelings of the majority by starting an open fight on the Wilson nominee.

The revolt in the National Committee came to the surface after the Democratic convention had adopted the Wilson platform on Americanism, preparedness, surface, tariff and the other issues for 1916 and had adjourned sine die.

The two national committeemen who voted their objections were Col. John J. McGraw of West Virginia, a good fighter, who supported Wilson at Baltimore four years ago, and E. H. Moore of Ohio.

Started Fight on McCormick.

McGraw prepared a resolution which he announced he would offer providing that the committee should ignore President Wilson and proceed to the election of a chairman, limiting the candidates to members of the National Committee. Col. McGraw said he had canvassed his colleagues and is believed about twelve of the committeemen would vote against McCormick.
